Search Results:

You can now open the electronic full text in html format or as a pdf file. You must have Acrobat Reader installed on your PC. You can download the Reader for free on The Digital Library page.

You do not yet have a literature list with citations on your topic?
Please Note! The electronic periodical library does not contain search functions! You must submit a request in the subject database!
(see pamphlet: Literature Database)

You are not sure which issue contains the article you are looking for?

Some publishers have additional access options and to some extent, you may be able to conduct a content search.
(see pamphlet: Literature Database)

Example: ScienceDirect by Elsevier Publishers

You can create a user profile, arrange to have alerts sent, and use the green buttons to access various search options, whereby – as opposed to subject databases – only Elsevier Publishers sources will be searched, additional Journals, etc. In addition, ScienceDirect provides an “academic” search engine called Scirus.
