

Random field models and spectral methods

Bertrand Gauthier

Nizza

We will describe how the resolution of a kernel-based interpolation problem can be associated with a spectral problem. We will show how this approach can be used to enforce boundary conditions in interpolation models and in what it offers an interesting alternative for dimension reduction. Applications to design of experiments will also be discussed.