The completion of the following courses / seminars is required for acceptance:

- Methods in Management Research
 - Master Seminar Qualitative Research Methods
 - Master Seminar Quantitative Research Methods

- Leadership Challenge Globalization
 - Master Course Creating Strategic Advantages
 - Master Course Dimensions of Globalization

OR

- Global Strategic Management
 - Master Course Creating Strategic Advantages

Grade Point Average

In "Leadership Challenge Globalization" or "Global Strategic Management" a grade point average better than 2.5 is required.

2. Master's Thesis Theme

■ Proposal of the student

The focus of the theme has to be in the area of "Strategic Management" including aspects of globalization. The theme can be chosen individually by the student.

The thesis can either be a theoretical work (desk research) or an empirical work (based on theoretical foundations).

■ Proposal of the Institute of Strategic Management

The Institute also proposes themes related to its research interests. See the homepage (www.jku.at/ism).

3. Application

A concept of the Master's Thesis together with an application is to be submitted to the Institute of Strategic Management in electronic format (manuela.breuer@jku.at). Details are available on the homepage.

An excellent concept is the main criteria for the acceptance of the application. Support is provided by the Institute's "Guidelines for Academic Writing" (www.jku.at/ism).

4. Master's Thesis Concept

At first a concept (minimum 5 pages) has to be developed.

Structure and minimum content:

■ Personal Data

Cover sheet: Name, Matr. No., SKZ (field code), e-mail, Telephone

■ Selected subject

Globalization or Global Strategic Management

■ Problem statement

Concretization of the theme, description of the problem / background of the work. This is an introduction to the topic.

■ Objective(s) of the thesis

The specification of the theme is realized by the formulation of one (or a few) objective(s) of the work. The formulation of the objective(s) is a crucial precondition for an effective and systematic work on the thesis. The thesis may be either a theoretical or an empirical work. For an empirical work the planned research design has to be outlined.

■ Structure of the thesis

The basic structure of the thesis informs about the contents and the logic of the overall design. The headlines of chapters (sub-chapters) have to be formulated clearly and precisely. The structure must be consistent and plausible.

■ Literature research / list of references

A profound and encompassing literature research is essential for a master's thesis. For the development of the concept a minimum of 10 scientific literature sources (books, scientific journals) is required. As part of the literature review the search of topic related scientific articles in recent journals (last 5 years) is mandatory.

Top ranked journals (A+, A, B) should be preferred (see: <https://vhbonline.org/en/vhb4you/vhb-jourqual/vhb-jourqual-3/tables-for-download>).

5. Master's Thesis

The details for writing the master's thesis as a scientific work are formulated in the "Guidelines for Academic Writing" of the Institute of Strategic Management (www.jku.at/ism). To comply with these guidelines is a non-negotiable requirement for a successful completion of the thesis.

The timeframe for writing the thesis formally is 6 months after the acceptance of the theme by the Institute of Strategic Management.
